Men's Coaching Weekend

Presented by Phil Hardin

Do you want to grow into the MAN you were designed to be?

The Men's Coaching Weekend is a unique environment of men committed to learning a relational paradigm for growth. In this format, men learn new relationship skills and benefit from interaction with other men. For most participants this has been a life-changing experience. The goal for each participant is to learn how to communicate openly and assertively, and receive feedback that will help to provide an accurate picture of who he really is and how he can begin to grow in weak areas.

The structure of the Men's Coaching Weekend includes a retreat and a follow-up program. This three month program varies depending upon the participants of each group. Through the retreat and follow-up, a man will see his life change as he experiences support and accountability from other men who are seeking to grow through this deliberate and intentional format.

Comments from Men

"The retreat gave me a safe place to be real."

"I was given the forum to open up, reveal myself and I learned how to live like I was made to live!"

"I was able to pinpoint my fear and learn how to deal with it... now I have a group of men to share my life with."

Phil is a licensed Marriage & Family Therapist in private practice with his wife through Passionate Living Counseling. He specializes in couples in crisis, men's issues, and all life and relationship issues. Phil is also the Director of Business and Professional Outreach, Intl. which seeks to bring men, couples, and families into wholeness and full maturity. The goal is that every man, couple, or family that is exposed to BPO, Intl. would have opportunity to grow into their full potential. Phil's extensive experience and training makes him a sought after speaker and facilitator for both large and small groups focused on men's issues.
